

We had been in partnership together for over 30 years in regional Queensland - a successful business built with a supportive team of long term workers and up to third generation loyal clients. A top priority was to find the right home for the business as well as the team and our clients. We were also looking for the right person or business to act on our behalf for this transaction – not just a salesman. Kerr Capital (KC) was recommended to us by a trusted business colleague. The KC process was thorough, considered, professional and discrete and not rushed. The sale process was instigated after a great deal of planning and fact finding by KC. This changed direction along the way as we ended up with a merger and not an outright sale. The merger process was much more complex than a straight sale. KC handled this change of direction effectively and professionally. They guided both parties on a business and personal level. This advice was greatly appreciated and reduced our time commitment for the process substantially. We got the result we were after and felt we were in safe hands at all times. KC stressed to us on more than once occasion .....don't rush the process, it will happen. We would happily recommend KC to any intending business people planning on selling out or selling down their business equity and would be more than happy to have a chat with anyone about our experience using KC.
